

HERO JR.

HERO JR. is Evan Haughey (vocals, rhythm guitar) from Bridgman, MI, Ken Rose (lead guitar) from Los Angeles, CA., Dave DuBrava (bass) from Binghamton, NY, and Ryan Keyes (drums) from Minneapolis, MN.

With an essence somewhere between the best of Nirvana and the heavy simplicity of early Black Sabbath and 70s British rock, HERO JR. gives listeners all the expected dynamics, power and unscripted performances of a great classic rock band, with melodic, lyrical and musical hooks that keep listeners singing along.

Having supported major headlining acts such as Alice Cooper, Tom Petty, John 5 & The Creatures, The Offspring, Tantric and more, HERO JR. is truly in their element live on stage, performing over 700 national shows since the band's first incarnation in 2010. In terms of work ethic and influences, HERO JR. is an old school band, but their crisp live sound sets the bar for "real" modern rock music. HERO JR. has a reputation for playing different shows each night, often stretching their well-crafted rock tunes into epic jams.

HERO JR.'s new album, Sometimes You Just Gotta Give It The Business, was recorded live to analog tape in just 48 hours, with the band performing sides one and two of the record in sequence for the definitive HERO JR. experience. Sometimes You Just Gotta Give It The Business is available now on iTunes.
